(1640), the founder of the family known as the Dedham Averys (see page 24). They are the compilers of this history of the Groton Avery clan (see title page and preface). Mr. Avery is of unmixed New England ancestry; through his mother, he is a descendant of two "Mayflower" Pilgrims, Stephen Hopkins and his dau., Constance, and of Thomas Dudley, the second governor of the colony of Massachusetts Bay. Early in 1861, he enlisted as a private in the 4th Mich. vol. inf., and, at the end of the war was mustered out as sergeant-major of the 11th Mich. vol. cavalry. He is, of course, a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1871. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa society and has received the academic degrees of Ph. D., LL. D., and D. C. L. He is a Knight Templar and a 32° Mason, a Son of the American Revolution, a member of the Zeta Psi (college) fraternity, and of many historical and scientific societies, and has served one term in the city council of Cleveland and four years in the state senate of Ohio. He is the author of the "Avery Physical Science Series" of text-books (physics and chemistry) published by the American Book Company, and of Avery's "History of the United States and its People" (16 octavo volumes), of which seven volumes have been published (1911) by the Burrows Brothers Company of Cleveland, O. For further particulars, see Sweet's "The Averys of Groton" (pages iv, 484 and 496-502), "Who's Who in America," and other biographical cyclopædias. Mr. Avery desires to assure the members of the clan that his wife is a much more able genealogist than he is and that to her they owe the successful solution of many puzzling problems relating to their ancestry. She has also been untiring in her efforts to make these volumes as nearly complete and accurate as possible. For further particulars concerning her, see "Who's Who in America." They have no children. Residence, Cleveland, Ohio.

MRS. CATHERINE HITCHCOCK TILDEN AVERY

3113. Susan Adeliza⁸ Avery (Caspar Hugh⁷, Amos Walker⁶, Abraham⁵, William⁴, John³, James², Christopher¹) was b. May 3, 1846, at Erie, Mich.; m. March 6, 1875, at Monroe, Mich., Sidney Silas Lewis, s. of Shubael and Lovina Celestia (Ford) Lewis. He was b. Nov. 5, 1845, at Monroe Tp., Mich. He was a farmer; d. May 30, 1907, at Troy, Ore.

3114. Charles Hedding⁸ Avery (Caspar Hugh⁷, Amos Walker⁶, Abraham⁵, William⁴, John³, James², Christopher¹) was b. Feb. 15, 1852, at Monroe, Mich.; m. Oct. 22, 1878, at Ithaca, N. Y., Ada Alphonson Boys, dau. of Almon Ives and Charlotte (Covert) Boys. She was b. March 29, 1857, at Ithaca, N. Y. After graduation by the Monroe High School, Mr. Avery entered Cornell University. The sudden death of his father forced him to leave college and, in December, 1873, he began the study of law at Buffalo, N. Y., where he soon became managing clerk for Lewis and Gurney who had the largest general practice of any law firm in the western part of the state. He was admitted to the bar in January, 1877. He began his career as a popular political speaker in the presidential campaign of 1876 and was soon made deputy county clerk. In 1881, he was the regular Republican candidate to represent his district in the state legislature, but the political upheaval of that year blasted his ambition. He has represented his ward (the wealthiest in the city) in the board of aldermen and has served several terms as a member of the Erie County Republican executive committee. He is now cashier in the office of the Treasurer of the city of Buffalo. He knows how to make friends and to hold them. At one noon-day function it was announced that "Avery knows everyone in Buffalo except those who came in on the 11:30 train." He is a member of the Buffalo Historical Society, the Buffalo Society of Natural Sciences, and the Erie County Bar Association. He is also a member of the Masonic fraternity, and of the B. P. O. E.; he is a past-master of De Molay Lodge,

Chas. H. Army

No. 498, F. & A. M., and was appointed upon the staff of the grand master of the state of New York. He has been grand president (New York state) of the Order of the Iroquois, was twice unanimously elected as grand regent (New York state) of the Royal Arcanum, and was twice a member of the supreme council of that order. Many of his addresses have been published and, in fraternal circles, made use of as campaign documents. Politics always had a fascination for him, and, while in national matters a strong partisan, his action in civic affairs is regulated more by his own judgment than by any stamp of party approval or regularity. In 1893, the firm of Avery and Murphy, attorneys and counsellors at law, was formed. An illness that continued for a long period necessitated a dissolution of the firm. Subsequently, Mr. Avery became managing attorney for the well-known law firm of Bissell, Sicard, Bissell and Cary, an association that was continued until the dissolution of the firm. This firm was the successor to that of Cleveland, Bissell & Sicard, of which Grover Cleveland was the head. Residence, Buffalo, N. Y.

Editorial Note.—On page 576 of this work appears the family record of George⁷ Avery (No. 1508) who m. Hannah Armstrong. When that section of the book was printed we did not know of any living descendant of this George Avery. The record as printed by us was copied from the record as printed by Mr. Sweet in 1894 (page 462 of his history of The Averys of Groton).

We subsequently learned that both of the children thus recorded by us died young and that there were several other children who lived to have families of their own. We have put forth our best efforts to get the records of these families, but are now obliged to let these pages go to press with some of them incomplete. As our record now stands, George⁷ Avery was b. Aug. 8, 1803, near Utica, N. Y. Hannah Armstrong was b. in Schoharie or Montgomery Co., N. Y. He was a carpenter. She d. March 6, 1863; he d. In 1900, he became the city editor of the Charlotte (N. C.) Daily Observer. In this journal, he established a department that he called "A Variety of Idle Comments," and became a popular commentator upon the virtues and vices of men, their merits and their weaknesses. He brought to every discussion the subtlest analysis, and, with a fidelity that was perfect and sometimes startling, "held the mirror up to nature." His vocabulary was rich; his humor, exquisite; his pathos, tear-compelling. He had no superior among contemporaneous newspaper writers for original thought, power, and felicity of expression. While upon the threshold of a career marked for greatness, surrounded by affec-

The ancestry of Juliet Eliza⁹ Avery, and of all the other descendants of her grandfather, Aaron⁷ Avery, runs back to Capt. James² Avery by a triple line. First is the line printed at the head of this record. The second runs back through Ellsworth⁸ (who did not die unmarried as stated in our record of his father's family) and through Aaron⁷ who married Anne Kinne. Anne Kinne was the daughter of the Rev. Aaron Kinne who married Anne Morgan, as recorded on page 386. Anne Morgan was the daughter of Solomon Morgan who married Mary Walworth (or Walsworth), as recorded on page 153. Mary Walworth was the daughter of William Walworth who married Mary⁴ Avery (No. 46). Mary⁴ Avery was the daughter of Samuel³ Avery who married Susannah Palmes. As to the third ancestral line, the Solomon Morgan who married Mary Walworth was the seventh child of William Morgan who married Margaret¹ Avery, as recorded on pages 119 and 120. Margaret¹ Avery was the daughter of James² Avery. The three lines unite in Capt. James² Avery, the father of James³ Avery and of Samuel³ Avery. It is said that the Rev. Aaron Kinne above mentioned was acting chaplain at Fort Griswold at the time of the massacre in 1781. See page 374.

After the death of Cyrus Minor⁸ Avery (No. 2509, q. v.), the name of the "Avery Manufacturing Company" was changed (Nov. 23, 1907) to the "Avery Company," and the authorized capitalization increased from $1,000,000 to $3,500,000. Both of the founders of the business being dead, the interests of their heirs are represented by George Luzerne Avery, a director and the secretary of the "Avery Company." makers of threshing machines, gasoline and steam plowing outfits, farm and city tractors, and other agricultural implements. The plant of this company covers about 47 acres; the numerous factory buildings, warehouses, etc., have a total floor space of about ten acres. In addition to its large domestic and Canadian Northwest trade, the company does a good foreign business with Mexico, Argentina, and Brazil, with increasing orders from Russia, Austria-Hungary, the Philippines, Portugal, China, Sweden, and Cuba. For the benefit of its thousand employes, and without expense to them, the company maintains a complete medical dispensary. The Avery Company was the first industrial concern in Illinois to take such action.

The liberality and kindness with which an injured employe is treated are not limited by the requirements of the law and have

APPENDIX.

THE ROYAL PEDIGREE OF SUSANNA (PALMES) AVERY.

As stated on page 114, Samuel³ Avery married Susanna Palmes, the daughter of Ann (Humfrey) Palmes, and the granddaughter of John Humfrey (or Humphrey) who married the Lady Susan Clinton, daughter of the third Earl of Lincoln. The royal ancestry of the earls of Lincoln is fully established and wholly unquestioned.

In The Averys of Groton, published by Homer D. L. Sweet (see page 598) in 1894, appears the ancestral line of Susanna Palmes, traced back for thirty-two generations, through the earls of Lincoln, to Egbert, the last king of the West Saxons and the first king of England (A. D. 775-837). Mr. Sweet copied the pedigree from The Williams-Walsworth Genealogy, published in 1887. Aware of the unpleasant suspicion that is attached to some American royal pedigrees, we decided not to reprint the Susanna Palmes ancestry unless it was verified by the highest authority in such matters, the Herald's College at London, a crown office. We forwarded to the college certified copies of testimony taken in Massachusetts courts, and got the certificate. This pedigree, thus revised, corrected, and certified, is first printed on the following pages of The Groton Avery Clan. At my request, Mr. John D. Rockefeller helped to pay the charges of the Herald's College.

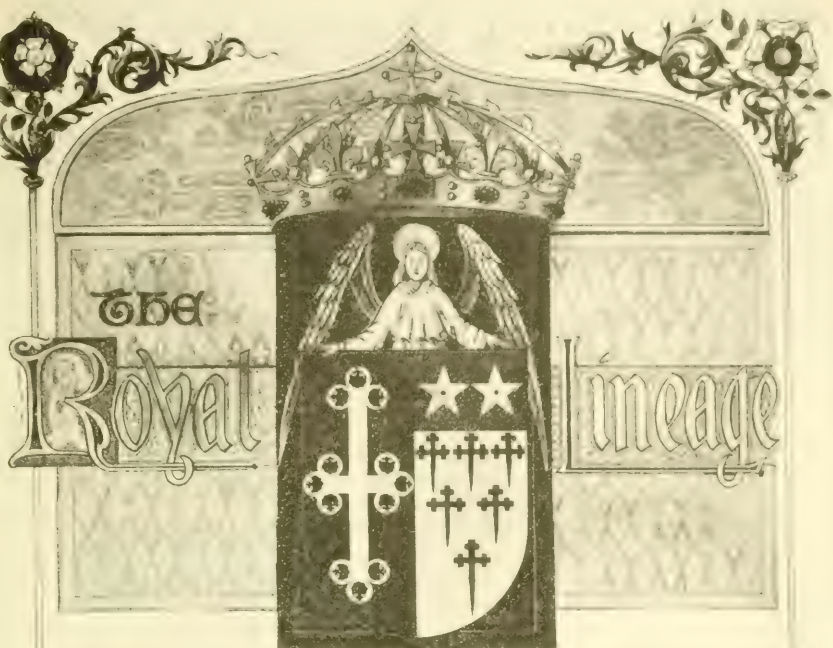

In October, 1911, several articles were printed in the New York Times denying the accuracy of the pedigree on the ground that the Colonel John Humfrey who was the father of Ann, and the ———— Humfrey who married the Lady Susan Clinton, were different persons. Thereupon, I prepared and published a pamphlet that definitely established the identity thus denied. A copy of this pamphlet is sent out with every copy of this family history. There is no longer any doubt that Susanna Palmes was the granddaughter of the John Humfrey who married the Lady Susan.

In my rather elaborate investigation of this subject I found the previously unnoted fact that the Lady Susan was the second wife of this John Humfrey, who by his first wife, Elizabeth Pelham, had a son, John Humfrey, Jr., who became a member of the Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company of Boston in 1640. This son by the first wife has a royal pedigree through his mother.

All of the facts known to me go to show that Ann Humfrey was the daughter of the second wife, rather than the daughter of the first wife. Unfortunately, I have not yet been able to secure legal proof that such is the case. I hope that certain studies now in progress in England will be conclusive on this point. Meanwhile, the descendants of Samuel Avery who attach any importance to such things may complacently await the discovery of the definite truth, assured that Susanna Palmes had (and therefore they have) a royal lineage through either Susan Clinton or Elizabeth Pelham.

OUR FOLKS.

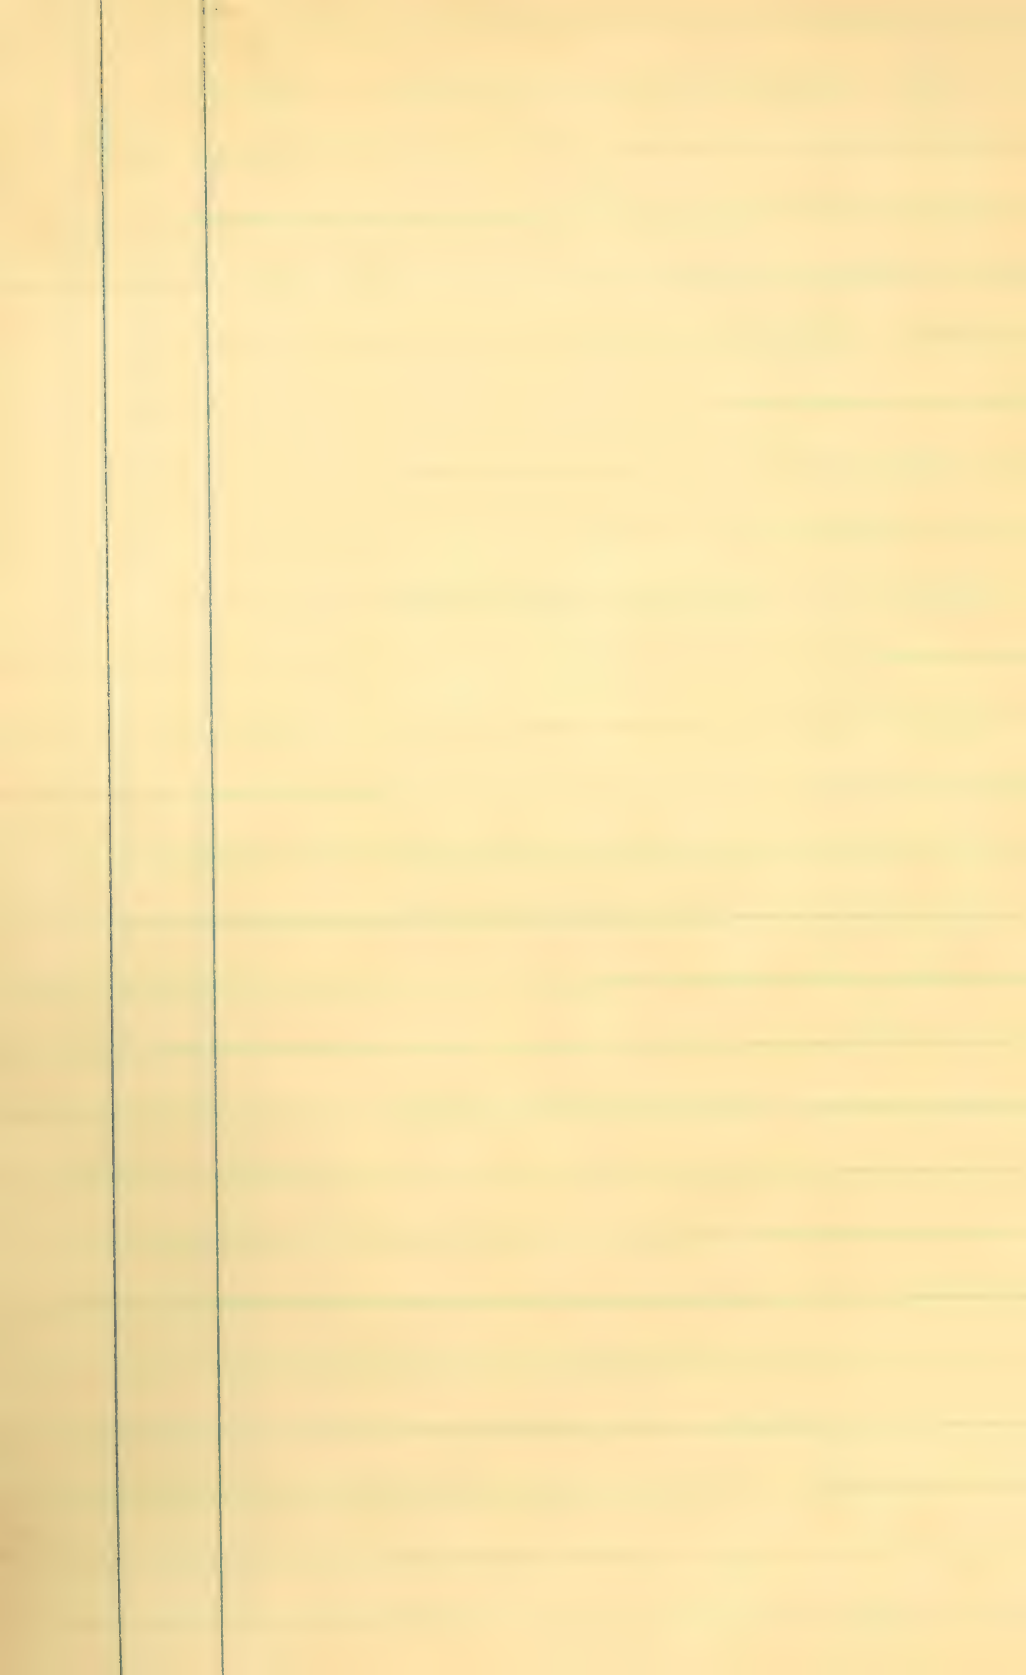

Write with pen and ink. What you write will probably be saved for many years; scripta manent. Therefore, in recording births, marriages and deaths, take pains to write with accuracy and easy legibility. In names and dates, each letter and figure should be carefully made so that a mistake in reading shall be inexcusable or impossible. Report each entry as made to the "clearing house" of the clan (see page viii of the preface).
